

Preikestolen

Description

The Preikestolen is a cliff that rises 604 meters above the Lysefjorden in Norway. Due to its abrupt nature, the cliff is very popular among base-jumpers, which love to enjoy the spectacular scenery mixed with adrenaline. As a result, it is one of the most visited areas in the country, receiving an average of 150,000 tourists per year.

Metadata

- GPS Coordinates: 58.9864° N, 6.1904° E
- City: Strand
- Country: Norway
- Landmarks: Natural Wonders
- Cadastral Number: NO.L.NW.S.1